

BOUGHTON HOUSE
& HERITAGE OPERA
PRESENT

THE WORLD PREMIÈRE OF
JONATHAN DOVE'S NEW OPERA

MANSFIELD PARK

HOSTED BY

THE DUKE AND DUCHESS OF BUCCLEUCH AND QUEENSBERRY

Dove's adaptation of Jane Austen's classic novel offers its audience a fully staged musical portrayal of heroine Fanny Price's foray in to nineteenth century high society.

Jonathan Dove's operatic repertoire makes him one of the most exciting talents within the British music community. In all his music, Dove has a strong desire to communicate, to entertain and to provoke transformative experiences and Mansfield Park is set to be no exception.

With the story returning to its original home of Northamptonshire and an introduction from the composer himself, Mansfield Park at Boughton House promises to be an unforgettable experience.

SATURDAY 30TH JULY 2011

18:30 – Drinks Reception

19:15 – Performance

21:45 – Carriages

Tickets £95.00 per person

Available from Boughton House. For further information contact - 01536 515731, blht@boughtonhouse.org.uk or visit www.boughtonhouse.org.uk

“Nothing but pleasure from beginning to end”

Jane Austen, Mansfield Park

MONTAGU
MUSIC COLLECTION